

7 days

WHAT'S INSIDE

going out

The Dish Sip's boozy fare R3

Opera From CBC studio to a barren warehouse: The strange travels of Vancouver Opera's Turandot R4

Theatre Rethinking The Elephant Man R5

Bar Scene

Hey baby, wanna record a pickup line? R5

Offbeat

A sing-along, vampire-slaying Buffy R6

Spectacle Mars and guitars: It's War of the Worlds, live R7

Concerts This week's hot tickets R8

film

Johanna Schneller chats with Catherine Zeta-Jones and explains why the woman can't stand still R9

Cover

Dakota Fanning, queen of the universe R11

Opening Dreamer, The Squid and the Whale, North Country, Shopgirl, Doom and much more Index on R9

Now Playing

Mini-reviews of the current releases R18

staying in

Andrew Ryan on TV pranks gone wrong R19

DVDs The quintupled Batman, The Big Lebowski and more R20

CDs Stevie Wonder, The Fiery Furnaces and more R21 and R22

STRINGS ATTACHED

Korean cellist Han-Na Chang joins the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra Monday.

Web Snopes.com, the believe-it-or-not site R23

Gaming Stashing the body: In Indigo Prophecy, the killer is you R24

21 FRIDAY

THE SUSTAINABLE CITY

The concept that clinched the 2010 Olympics deal is discussed by such panelists as former premier Michael Harcourt and H. Peter Oberlander in this opener for UBC's Living the Global City series. 6 p.m. Free. UBC Robson Square Theatre, 800 Robson St.

22 SATURDAY

ASTRID HADAD

The Mexican cabaret queen channels Mary Magdalene and Frida Kahlo in an outlandish act that takes the "earnest" out of performance art. $28 to $45. The Chan Centre, 6562 Crescent Rd., 604-280-3311.

23 SUNDAY

CRÈME DE LA CRÈME, GRAND WEDDING SHOWCASE

Sure, the Cinderella season is over — unless you're newly engaged. In the sumptuous Vancouver Club, presenters like Cupcakes, Something Blue and Kiss & Makeup are sure to get betrothed hearts a-fluttering. 11 a.m. $45. 915 W. Hastings St., 604-760-8388.

24 MONDAY

HAN-NA CHANG, CELLO

Trained by the great Rostropovich, the 22-year-old Korean wunderkind wields her bow in a night of Schumann and Brahms with the VSO. 8 p.m. $27 to $75. Orpheum Theatre, 884 Granville St., 604-280-3311.

25 TUESDAY

ALLEY CATS

A ballsy construction worker (Rex Harrington) and tough cafe owner (Lea DeLaria) are brassy and gay in this outrageous tribute to the Broadway musicals of yore. 8 p.m. (and to Nov. 12). $26.75-$37.45. Vogue Theatre, 918 Granville St., 604-280-4444.

26 WEDNESDAY

THE GHOST TRAIN

Dancing skeletons and ghoulish serenades scare the living daylights out of the munchkin set aboard this Dia de los Muertos forest journey. 6 p.m. (and to Nov. 2). $5 to $8.50. Stanley Park Miniature Railway, 604-280-4444.

27 THURSDAY

FIDGITAL

The dexterous Vancouver band delivers nu-pop with broken beat and funk — Freddie Mercury and Fatboy Slim would approve. 10 p.m. $10 at door. Ginger 62, 1219 Granville St., 604-688-5494.

I was born with this precious gift. It was the ability to laugh at the misfortunes of others.
Dame Edna Everage answers 7 Questions, R25.

COVER PHOTO OF DAKOTA FANNING:
JOE LEDERER
HAN-CHANG: SHEILA ROCK